

Syracuse International Folk Dancers present Steve Kotansky teaching Balkan dances

Saturday, June 9, 2018

Steve Kotansky, known widely as a versatile dancer and teacher, has made many research trips to Bulgaria, the former Yugoslavia, Romania, Hungary, and Greece. He has taught at major folk dance camps all over North America and Europe and has performed and choreographed for many performing ensembles throughout the U.S. and Europe. Steve is active as a teacher and researcher of dance in North American Albanian and Macedonian Roma communities. He also conducts world dance programs for grades K-12 in New York City-area public and private schools. Steve brings a lively, in-depth knowledge to his teaching, and an intense joy to his dancing.

We will kick off the evening with open dancing to live music by Steve Ellner and Stefhan Olstrom!

Join us for our All "Steve" event

Saturday, June 9, 2018 6:30 – 10:30
Open dancing followed by the workshop

Admission: $15 ($10 for Syracuse IFD members)

Location: United Church of Fayetteville
310 E. Genesee St. (Parking in back)
Fayetteville, NY 13066

Email: SyracuseIFD@twcny.rr.com
Out-of-town dancers may inquire about hospitality.